VIEWS OF THE NEWS

By LEONARD F. JAMES

There's one New Year's resolution that is worth consideration by American statesmen and diplomats and, more important, by the American citizen. A resolution that the past year of international politics has clearly pointed out. It is that the United States and not Russia has the initiative in international affairs in 1949 and must keep it. If we are irresolute we can lose it. But it is ours to keep if we have the courage and determination to use it.

The early months of 1948 brought the cold war out into the open when Czechoslovakia fell to Russian domination. The Western Powers were to have been pushed out of Berlin, perhaps out of Germany, by the summer. But American determination and generosity built an "air bridge" of far more than supplies to Berlin. The United States kept alive a hope in millions of Europeans and proved that American was not Imperialist-minded but was prepared to back up its promises of freedom and democracy. United States action proved that courageous disregard of danger succeeded where doubts and fears could have caused retreat.

First Round to U.S.A.

Democracy, and the United States, have by no means won the contest. They perhaps merely find themselves still standing at the end of the first round, with many citizens amazed to find themselves not on their backs. But the willingness of those citizens to support their government's Marshall

"Cardiac Crusade" Opens In February

Harold D. Hodgkinson, vice-president and general manager of Filene's department store, and Thomas A. Pappas, foods merchant and prominent philanthropist, will serve as New England co-chairmen of the February fundraising campaign of the New England Heart Association.

The campaign will be conducted from February 7 to 28 in conjunction with the $5,000,000 national drive of the American Heart Association. The national chairman is Harold E. Stassen.

Governor Paul A. Dever, who is honorary chairman of the "Cardiac Crusade" to enlist volunteers now for the drive next month, has asked citizens who wish to help, to write to him as crusade chairman in care of the state house, or to address campaign headquarters, 44 Kilby st., Boston. The headquarters telephone is Richmond 2-0100.

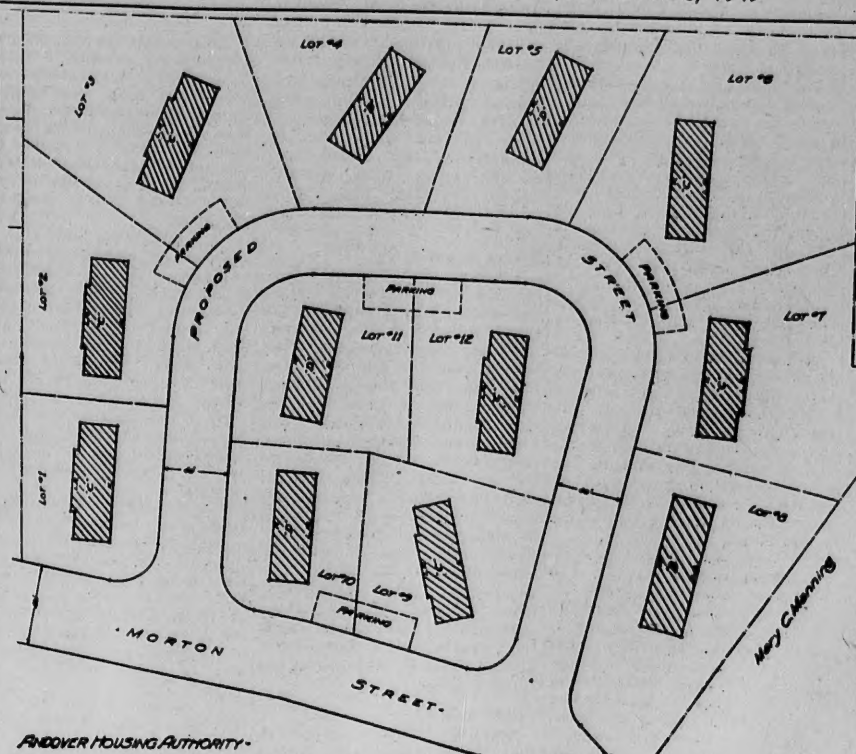

In an appeal to the public through press and radio, Gov. Dever declared, "Heart disease is everybody's problem. Because of the seriousness of this health problem, I am making this personal appeal to ask you to join in the Cardiac crusade."

Parking Meters Collect $3815.55

The town parking meters which have been in operation since last August collected $3815.55 up to Dec. 31, maintaining their average of about $38 per day for every day they were in operation, according to the records of Town Treasurer Thaxter Eaton.

During the month of December the total collections were $1018.95.

Deputy Fire Chief To Be Appointed

Appointment of a permanent deputy chief in the fire department will be made soon as the result of recent civil service examinations taken by five members of the department.

Albert Cole, a permanent lieutenant, has been acting deputy since the retirement of Deputy Lester Hilton, December, 1944 and Kerr Spark, a permanent fireman, has been acting lieutenant in the department.

Members of the department who took the examinations have received their ratings but up to Wednesday evening Chief C. Edward Buchan had not received a copy of the eligible list which the examinations have established.

Caldwell In Legion Oratorical Contest

Brian Caldwell, a junior at Pynchard High school, has been chosen to represent Andover in the annual American Legion oratorical contest to be held soon. He will compete with other contestants from the county and if he wins will compete in the state finals. From the state one contestant is chosen to represent the Commonwealth in the national contest.

The county contest will be held in the Oliver school at Lawrence. The Andover entrant will receive a prize for winning the local contest. The state prize is $150 and the national prize is a $4000 scholarship. Last year Jack Sherman represented Andover.

Caldwell has taken part in many plays during his school career and is well chosen for his part in the Legion contest. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Caldwell of 2 N. Main st.

Local Man Victim Of Hit-Run Driver

Found lying in the roadway in front of his home at 112 N. Main st., New Year's eve with a gash in his head. Andrew N. Karakanas, 36, died Tuesday, Jan. 4, at the Massachusetts General hospital, Boston.

A partial report which local police received from Dr. William Brickley, Suffolk county medical examiner, showed that he had received a fracture of the skull and a fracture of the pelvis.

Police investigating the case since Karakanas was found about 8 o'clock by Eugene St. Jean of 9 Red Spring rd., have no clues to the manner in which he received the injuries.

Upon learning of the medical examiner's report Chief George A. Dane said that he is now certain it is a hit-run case.

Sgt. William R. Hickey was investigating another accident in the vicinity when informed that the injured man was found on the street. Taken to the Lawrence General hospital in the town ambulance, Karakanas is reported to have asked the attendants, "Did you get the fellow who hit me?" The injured man later in the evening was removed to the Massachusetts General hospital for treatment.

Police learned that Karakanas, about 15 minutes before he was found, left his home to garage his auto in a lot across the street owned by Edward Downes. He had parked his machine and started to return home when hit. Examination of his clothing and of the street at the scene of the accident revealed no clues as to the way he received his injury.

Seize Revere Pair After Wild Chase

Two Andover officers in a 90-miles-an-hour chase from Andover square to Reading square early Wednesday morning succeeded in capture of two Revere men who were later arraigned on charges that included the kidnapping of a girl who was in their car.

The wild chase ended when Reading police, notified of the pursuit from local headquarters, put up a road block in Reading square and shot the tires of the car when it swerved to avoid the trap. This caused the fleeing car to overturn but none of its occupants were injured.

Andover police were notified early Wednesday morning by a Lawrence taxi driver that a car was travelling at a high rate of speed over South Broadway with a girl in the back seat calling for help.

Sgt. David L. Nicholl, who was in the station at the time, radioed the police car in which Officers Joseph E. O'Brien and William Tammany were on duty. They soon noticed a speeding car approaching the square and signalled for it to stop, but it kept going and the officers gave chase through the mist and fog. At the top of the hill near the academy an approaching car was driven over to the side of the road but the speed of the fleeing car did not diminish.

VOTE TO ACCEPT BOXFORD PUPILS

Boxford high and junior high school pupils will be accepted in the local schools beginning next September.

This decision was voted by the school committee Tuesday night after a discussion of the problem with members of the Boxford school committee. About 55 pupils will be accommodated here and in the financial transactions involved, Andover stands to gain about $2,500 a year. One new teacher will be necessary.

Members of the Boxford committee who discussed the matter with the local committee and superintendent were: Supt. William D. Johnson, Dr. Stephen Maddock, chairman, Mrs. Warren Chadwick and William Greenier.

In explaining its position the Boxford committee said the town had 10 pupils to the grade from the seventh to 12th, and that after great deliberation the people of Boxford had decided that they wished their children to have the advantage of the type of education offered by the Andover schools.

Dr. Maddock said that during the past few years several Boxford people had sent their children to the Andover schools paying for the tuition privately and these parents were high in their praise of the Andover school system.

The Andover committee in considering the matter brought out the fact that the tuition would be $160 a year for each junior high school pupil and $180 for each high school pupil. Supt. Johnson stated that there would be approximately 55 pupils in all six grades. The Andover committee, on the Catholic Club Installation Jan. 8

Installation of the newly-elected officers of the Andover Catholic club will be held Saturday, Jan. 8 at the Andover Country club, starting with a catered dinner at 7:30 p. m.

Following the dinner, the moderator, the Rev. Matthew A. McDonald, O.S.A., of St. Augustine's church, will invest the new officials with the duties of their office.

An interesting program has been arranged which will include songs by James Sheard and a comedy sketch by Hal Wennik and a group of members. This will be followed by general dancing until midnight. About 250 members and their wives and guests are expected to attend.

School Com. Favors Move And Town To Gain About $2500 Annually

Increases in basic prices and in school enrollment were reflected in the annual budget of $316,244 which the school committee voted at its meeting Monday night, an increase of $34,880 over the $281,364 appropriated for 1948.

Although the teachers have a petition before the board for a salary increase of $300 the 1949 budget makes no provision for such an amount. All town employees, as the result of a vote taken at the last annual town meeting, receive a $4 cost-of-living bonus which expires the end of next March. Although not officially confirmed it is expected that this amount will be incorporated in basic salaries this year.

In adopting the new budget the committee noted that on account of action taken earlier in the meeting in regard to Boxford students attending the local high schools, that there would be a return to the town from the state and from Boxford of $34,545.

The transportation refund from the state was estimated at $2400.

Williams Chairman Of Polio Campaign

George Williams, 51 Whittier st., a World War 2 veteran and fireman, has been appointed March of Dimes chairman for Andover this year.

Mr. Williams' appointment has been announced by Daniel R. Harrington, Haverhill, Essex county campaign chairman for the March of Dimes.

Mr. Harrington said that Fire Chief C. Edward Buchan of Andover will serve as honorary chairman.

Plans are now being advanced for the start of the March of Dimes drive here.

A film, "Braces and Crutches," showing polio-stricken youngsters at "Sea Haven," the Plum Island summer camp for crippled children, will be made available to organizations and clubs in Andover by Mr. Williams. He may be contacted at the Central fire station, telephone 212.

Nation's Transportation Major Public Problem

Over $30 billion was spent by the people of the United States for all kinds of transportation in 1948—for transporting of people and goods by highway, by rail, air, water and pipeline.

Public and private funds in almost equal amounts have built up the vast facilities which make up the transportation system of today.

The system includes 30,533 miles of inland waterways, in addition to coastal and intercoastal routes; 3,313,000 miles of highway, 390,000 miles of railroad track, 40,000 lighted operating airline miles, and 6,000 airports, 140,000 miles of petroleum pipelines, and the equipment operating over these basic facilities.

Nearly $90 billion has been invested in creating these facilities. Through local, state and federal governments, taxpayers provided $46 billions for this machine, while $44 billion was provided by private investors.

Using these facilities are almost 31 million automobiles, almost 7 million trucks, 130,000 buses, 10,000 vessels engaged in commercial transport, 42,000 locomotives, 1,700,000 freight cars, 3,000 commercial airplanes, and some 80,000 private planes. Total facilities are greater than in all other countries of the world combined, and the cost to users is barely half the cost for comparable service in any other country of the world.

This vast, vital service has grown like Topsy, giving the American people unexcelled service in peace or war. But because it has developed without a policy or program to assure coordination and direction, it has resulted in an overdevelopment and a colossal waste which threatens the solvency and efficiency of the entire system.

Congress for more than twenty years has permitted nature to take its course, failing completely to parallel modern trends with modern policy. In these two decades over $35 billion of taxpayers' funds have been used to build a vast network of highways and airways, and to expand waterways. The existence of these new basic facilities has changed the entire transportation picture.

Shippers, utilizing these publicly-financed facilities, have gone into the transportation business for their own account in competition with the regulated common carriers. Over 85 percent of the trucks and 8% of the ships and barges are now used by thousands of such private carriers.

And other thousands of so-called contract carriers have entered the business in this period. These agencies are only partially regulated.

SEAL SALES JUMP

Returns of the Christmas Seal sale compiled Jan. 4 were $89.15 in excess of those made at the same time last year. Total sales at that time, according to a statement by Mrs. Elbert C. Weaver, chairman of the local committee, were $2,481.99 as compared with $2,571.14 for Jan. 4, 1949. These figures do not include the 138.24 contributed by the schools. Students of the Shawheen school donated 100 per cent.

TREE BREATHE IN WINTERTIME, NEEDS MOISTURE

A tree breathes even in winter, through its bark and roots. And it suffers as much from drought in January and February as it does during a midsummer dry spell.

The life processes of a tree never stop during winter. They simply slow down like those in a hibernating bear, according to Dr. Rush P. Marshall, director of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories at Stamford, Conn.

The major part of a tree's breathing—the exchange of gases—occurs through the stomata or tiny pores in a leaf. But when leaves drop, special openings in the younger bark take over the respiratory functions. These are called lenticles, the tiny black dots that can be seen on twigs. This breathing, however, is in a very restricted sense because the needs of a dormant tree are not too great.

Breathing also takes place through a tree's root in winter as in summer.

In winter also, a certain amount of water is evaporated through the bark. High drying winds take it up.

Evergreens adapt themselves to these extreme drying conditions by the waxy condition of their leaves and by their ability to close the stomata, or breathing pores in their needles. Deciduous trees adapt themselves by dropping their leaves in the fall.

But both types of trees must replenish the moisture that is lost in winter. If they do not, drying results and serious injury follows.

If the water in the ground is frozen solid by deep frost, that moisture is denied. Add to this high winds and extreme sunlight, and the bark of deciduous trees become sunburned and scalded and evergreen needles brown and burn.

In winter there is a certain sap flow in trees, sufficient to replace water loss. That is why a blanket of snow is preferred to deeply frozen turf. The ground beneath the snow is warm enough to permit the roots to absorb soil water and lessen the danger of winter damage.

Mentally-Ill Veteran Responsibility of Public

The public now is facing the problem of the mentally ill veteran intelligently and objectively, realizing that a psychiatric illness is not a stigma, but, like a physical disability, must be treated and may be cured, according to Dr. H. I. Harris of Boston, psychiatrist who heads the extensive Veterans' Administration neuropsychiatric program in New England.

"The realization that the mentally and emotionally ill are the responsibility of the community," Dr. Harris said, "and that an understanding attitude on the part of the community can do much to effect a cure, gained considerable momentum after World War II when thousands of veterans returned home emotionally disturbed."

"The public was faced with the fact that the majority of veterans hospitalized in VA hospitals were so-called NP—or neuropsychiatric—patients. The problem of treating, curing and rehabilitating these mentally ill veterans in order that they could resume their rightful place in the community had to be faced directly." Dr. Harris pointed out that of the 5,870 patients in New England VA hospitals on September 30, 3,955 are classed as "NP" patients.

"On the basis of our experiences after World War I," Dr. Harris continued, "we have every reason to anticipate that the number of NP veteran patients will increase. Now, however, with the backing of an understanding public, plus the increased skill and knowledge of competent psychiatrists, we are able to effect more and more cures."

In addition to its three NP hospitals, the VA in New England has out-patient mental hygiene clinics in Boston, Providence, Hartford, and Manchester, N. H. These mental hygiene clinics, Dr. Harris explained, comprise the "preventive psychiatry" phase of the VA's neuropsychiatric program.

"Through our mental hygiene clinics," Dr. Harris said, "we treat the mentally ill veteran before his emotional disturbance requires that he be hospitalized. The old adage—'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure'—applies particularly to the emotionally disturbed veteran, for by treating him in the early stages of his illness we usually can arrest its progress, arriving at an eventual cure."

"Once a veteran's emotional illness is such that he must be hospitalized, curing him becomes in most cases a long, difficult and expensive process." Each VA mental hygiene clinic team is made up of a psychiatrist, a psychologist and a social service worker. The clinics offer residency training to private psychiatrists working for certification by American Specialty Boards.

What Our Readers Say—

SEAL SALE SUCCESSFUL

Editor of The Townsman:

Dear Sir:

Your generous use of our news releases and newspaper features has contributed greatly to the belief to the fact that the total returns in the Christmas Seal sale conducted by the Essex County Health association amount to somewhat more than last year at this time. Our hearty thanks for your help in the prevention and control of TB.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. Elbert C. Weaver,

Last Friday, this store did more business in one day than we had done in the three days prior. Our boys were run ragged putting up orders and in the delivering of them.

This store was no different than hundreds of other Independent Operators doing business the same way. The good old-fashioned manner of telephoning your Independent Grocer and having him attend to your needs, and then leaving your time to the urgent demands in your home.

New "FADS" appear on the horizon from time to time that attempt to belittle and discredit the time honored and proven methods of INDEPENDENT FOOD OPERATION.

Boosters Conducted

Successful Campaign

The Boosters' committee closed a very successful campaign with its football banquet at which sweaters were presented to members of the squad.

In addition, the committee honored the band and cheer leaders

by presenting each one present with a corsage. Head Coach Roberts and Assistant Coach Dunn were presented inscribed desk sets.

The financial report of the committee was read by James P.

Christie, treasurer. It showed gross receipts of $4,420.95; expenditures of $2,018.26, and a balance of $2,402.69. However, there is little of this balance left since the committee, in addition to sweaters and uniforms, has purchased track and basketball suits, and warm-up suits for both basketball and track.

P.A. Hockey Team

In N. J. Tournament

Phillips academy's hockey team won its first round game at the Lawrenceville invitation tournament this week at Princeton, N. J., but lost its second round and con-

In the opening games at Princeton's Hobey Baker rink the local school team took a 3-0 victory over Peddie school, but ran into a

9-1 setback against Nichols school of Buffalo, N. Y., untimate winners of the tournament.

In the consolation round the

Northwood school of Lake Placid,

N. Y., topped the Andover team

6-1. Exeter got into the championship round but was nosed out 3-2

by Nichols school.

WEST PARISH

Mrs. Sarah Lewis, Correspondent, Telephone 534-J

CHURCH MEETING

The West church held its annual meeting Wednesday evening, Dec. 29, with the report of officers and the annual election following the church supper. The opening prayer was offered by the Rev. Newman Matthews, pastor emeritus. The clerk's report was given by Herbert P. Carter and the report of the treasurer by Harry A. Wright.

The following members were elected to office for 1949: Clerk, Herbert P. Carter; treasurer, Warren A. Lewis, to succeed Harry A. Wright; auditor, Richard Williams. The resignation of John Broadhead, who has moved to Greenfield, was accepted with regrets and Dean Hudgins was elected to serve his unexpired term as deacon.

The three members of the Every Member canvas elected were: Horace Thomas, Dean Hudgins and Richard Williams. Newly-elected delegates to the Andover Council of Churches are: Mrs. Arthur Lewis, Dawn Dunn and Robert Marland. The delegates to the Andover Association of Churches are to be appointed by the pastor. Arthur Lewis was elected layman for the Layman's council.

Reports of the various activities of the church were given by the following officers: Mrs. Carl Stevens, secretary of the Woman's union; Mrs. Fred Ortstein, secretary of the Junior Woman's union; Richard Williams, secretary of the Men's brotherhood; Warren Lewis, superintendent of the Sunday school; and Jane Young and Robert Gaskill, Young People's Fellowship.

A music committee is to be appointed by the church committee.

Grange Notes
Andover Grange, 183, will meet at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 11 in Grange hall. A supper will be served at this time preceding the annual installation of officers. Mrs. Hartwell Abbott will be in charge of the supper. The installing officer will be Deputy Alfred Jackson of West Newbury. The public is invited to the supper and also the installation which will follow. Reservations for the supper can be made by phoning Mrs. Hartwell Abbott.

Personals

Mrs. G. Richard Abbott of Upland rd. and Mrs. Stephen Pettit of Beech circle attended the State home demonstration council meeting held Tuesday, Dec. 28, in Horticultural hall, Worcester. At the afternoon meeting, Dr. Thomas Briggs of New York gave a lecture on "Tips For Shoppers."

Mrs. Karl Haartz and her children, Karla and David, of High Plain rd. have returned from a visit with her brother, the Rev. Richard Carter of Suffield, Conn.

Mrs. Russell Foster and her daughter, Evelyn, recently enjoyed a visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall at their home in Chicopee.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vandenberg, who have recently moved into their new home on Argilla rd., gave them a housewarming Saturday evening, Jan. 1. At that time, they presented the Vandenberg with a gift for their new home.

Miss Frances Little has returned to her studies at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor after spending the holidays with her mother on Shawsheen rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maynard of Manchester, N. H., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Baillargeon, Brechin ter.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell Abbott will be pleased to know that their young son, Jim Tim, is sufficiently recovered so that he can remain out of his cast. He was stricken with a spinal infection five months ago which confined him to the hospital for several months.

Word has been received from Denmark of the safe arrival of Mrs. John Rasmussen, who arrived in time to have Christmas with her aged father whom she had not seen for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Putnam and their daughter, Mary, spent New Year's day with their son George Putnam and his family of Rochester, N. H.

Mrs. Fred Thresher of Braintree, Vt., is enjoying a few days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Carl Stevens, of Virginia rd.

Miss Lolita Machon of Beech circle and the Misses Ruth Ann and Nancy Chadwick of Lowell st. were recent visitors in Holbrook.

Miss Doris Newton has returned to her duties as music supervisor in the schools of Montpelier, Vt., after spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newton of Boutwell rd.

Norman Machon of Beech circle and David Batcheller have returned to the Great Lakes Naval Training center, Chicago, Ill., after enjoying the holidays at their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. Lewis and family of Laurel lane spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Carlton White of Whitman.

PLAY

The annual stage production of the school will be presented sometime in February under the direction of Miss Ansel Angelo. The cast for the play, entitled "Cinderella of Loredale," has not yet been selected. It will consist of seventh, eighth, and ninth grade students.

Christmas Parties

Christmas parties were held in all the homerooms Thursday morning, Dec. 23. In many of the homerooms small gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served.

In Room 4 a Christmas quiz program was conducted, with Raeburn Hathaway acting as master of ceremonies. Each member contributed an inexpensive gift to the jackpot, which the two winners, Judy Maddock and Janet Thompson, divided between them. Student Council

A student council meeting was held Monday. The present members received their student council pins which will be returned at the end of the year.

There was a discussion as to the possibility of having school parties instead of dances. Lucille Spinella, dance committee chairman, will soon meet with Mrs. Anna Walsh concerning this.

James Murray will be in charge of posting the intra-mural basketball results and news on the bulletin board.

Eighth Grade Classes

In the social studies classes conducted by Walter Roberts, the pupils have completed the study of the Revolutionary War, and are now studying the organization of the Union and the political parties.

The students in Miss Ansel Angelo's English classes have been giving oral book reviews. They have not yet received their third assignment sheets.

Sports

The Andover Junior High varsity basketball team will play the Central Catholic team in our gym Friday at 2:30 p. m.

The girls' intra-murals started Tuesday, with the Reds defeating the Greens, 16-3, and the Blues defeating the Golds, 16-12. A school team will be picked from the color teams after the tournament.

The girls' gym classes have been doing apparatus work, which includes the horse, buck, parallel bars, and the traveling rings.

The seventh grade boys are playing a series of three games in a round robin tournament. 107,430 Lbs. of Scrap Collected In Drive

The Andover committee for the New England Industrial Scrap drive has completed its work and records show that it collected 107,430 pounds of the much-needed scrap.

Frank Zecchini of Main st., was chairman of the committee. With him were: James R. Mosher, Fred H. Smith, Walter S. Downs, Jr., Richard Zecchini, Charles E. Hayes, George G. Brown, George H. Winslow, Hyman Krinsky, Lewis W. Muise, and Alexander Ness.

In acknowledgment of the committee's service, Chairman Roy E. Hardy of the board of selectmen, has sent the following letter to Mr. Zecchini:

December 29, 1948
Mr. Frank Zecchini
Guterson & Gould, Inc.
54 Medford Street
Lawrence, Mass.

Dear Frank:

I wish to thank you very much for the prompt, forceful and expeditious manner in which you handled the Scrap Drive for the Town of Andover. I think you and your committee have done a very fine job and I will see that public acknowledgment is made of this fact.

Sincerely,
Board of Selectmen
By Roy E. Hardy
Chairman.

Mobile Blood Unit To Be Here Jan. 31

Andover chapter of the Red Cross met recently at the headquarters in Elm square to make plans for the visit of the blood bank which will be at the South church Monday, Jan. 31.

Mrs. Harry I. Emmons, chairman of the blood bank program, presided at the meeting. The following appointments were announced: Mrs. Henry G. Tyler, chairman of volunteer workers; Mrs. C. C. Kimball, co-chairman; Mrs. Charles Gregory, chairman of nurses and nurses aides; Mrs. C. D. McDuffie, chairman of canteen; Mrs. Foster Barnard, chairman of registration; Mrs. Leon Field, chairman of transportation.

A statement issued from the local headquarters says:

"The National Red Cross blood program which began operations last January, is one of the most important aspects of Red Cross disaster relief. The experience gained during the war, when Red Cross collected 13,326,242 blood donations for the armed forces and in peace time cooperation with various health agencies make Red Cross the logical organization to set up and operate a blood program national in scope.

"Andover chapter is proud to be a part of such a program. But we are more intimately concerned with the calls for blood in our own community and with our ability to answer these calls. To date we have been able to supply every request for blood made to our headquarters. In an effort to insure this same service for the future we are entertaining a mobile unit for the collection of blood at South church, Monday, Jan. 31. Anyone able to donate blood is earnestly requested to do so as a community service. Chapter headquarters (tel. 1496) will be delighted to receive your name and to answer inquiries concerning the program."

VITAL STATISTICS

Vital statistics recorded to date at the office of Town Clerk George H. Winslow show that the number of births for 1948 fell short of the record established the previous year, while the number of deaths increased. The latter may be due in some measure to the number of out-of-town deaths recorded here.

The figures to date are as follows:

	1948	1947
Marriage intentions	160	162
Marriages	164	176
Births	197	256
Deaths	155	133

Parking Violations Becoming Fewer

Parking violations are becoming fewer, according to Police Chief George A. Dane who notes that the number of no-fix tags given out by the department in the past few weeks is far below the number issued a month ago.

Chief Dane says that autoists are becoming better acquainted with the operation of the parking meters and are getting to like them better, as fewer complaints are coming into headquarters.

One woman, who was tagged for parking in a restricted area near a corner, where the curbs are painted red, took her no-fix tag very graciously and then asked if the police could recommend some way she could get a red paint off her white-wall tires.

One man complained recently that the Chestnut street meters are not working. He said he put eight pennies into one of them and no parking time was registered. (Chestnut street meters are set for two hours parking time for five cents. They can be operated only with a nickel. Pennies will drop right through them—into the coin box!)

MERRIMACK COLLEGE

With the re-opening of classes Monday, Jan. 3, activities at Merrimack college are again in full swing. Intra-mural basketball under the direction of Fr. William G. Cullen, O.S.A., moderator of athletics, is now in the second half of the league. The Dons are in first place at present. Twelve teams are competing for the Edward J. Higgins trophy.

The informal hockey team composed of Merrimack college students is undefeated with victories over some of the better amateur teams around Boston. They are slated to play the Boston college freshmen team sometime this month.

Plans for an operetta in the near future are being made by Fr. Francis X. Smith, O.S.A., moderator of the Dramatic society and Fr. William J. Wynne, O.S.A., director of the Glee club.

Injustice

An old colored man was complaining about the railroad refusing to pay for his mule which had been killed by a train.

"Dey won't pay for mah mule. Dey won't even gimme back mah rope." "What rope?" he was asked. "Why, sah," he replied, "de rope ah done used to tie de mule on de track."

WOMAN'S CLUB

The meeting of the Shawsheen Village Woman's club was held Monday afternoon in the auditorium of the Shawsheen school. Tea was served prior to the meeting with Mrs. Edward Carey and Mrs. Frank R. MacMackin as chairman hostesses for the day. Mrs. Norman Miller, president of the club, presided at the business meeting and it was announced that Mrs. Chester Kopatch is the new press correspondent for the club.

Mrs. Joseph Cardella announced the speaker for the afternoon, Gertrude Beattys, who gave a dramatic interpretation of Harriet Beecher Stowe. The stage was set with period furniture and Gertrude Beattys' characterization was given in authentic costume of the period. She wore the wedding gown of her great aunt who was married during the Civil War in 1861. Gertrude Beattys script was written by her and her audience felt that they were spending the afternoon with Harriet Beecher Stowe herself, so realistic was she portrayed.

The Antique department of the Shawsheen Village Woman's club will meet at the Historical house, Andover at 2:30 p. m., Jan. 14.

The guest speaker for the afternoon will be Mrs. Frank Brigham and her delightful subject will be "Shawls of Many Lands." She will bring a beautiful exhibit of shawls with her.

The hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Carleton Schulze and Mrs. Frank MacMackin.

Shawsheen P.T.A. To Meet

The Shawsheen Parent-Teacher association will meet at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Jan. 12, in the auditorium of the Shawsheen school.

Herbert Ortstein, president of the association, will preside at the business meeting.

Paul McKinnon will be program chairman for the evening and he will introduce the speaker for the evening, Miss Elizabeth Harris of the M.S.P.C.C.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening by the second and third grade mothers with Mrs. Leo Daley, Mrs. Paul Goldman, Mrs. Raymond Beaven and Mrs. John Calnan as hostess chairmen for the evening.

Schools Reopen

The schools of the village have again resumed their studies. The students of the Sacred Heart school in the center of the village, arrived Sunday and classes began Monday morning on regular schedule. School will continue now until the March vacation period. Shawsheen school opened its doors at 8:30 a. m. Monday to an eager group of boys and girls and on questioning them, the majority were very eager to again resume their studies.

BARBARA MARION SMITH

Barbara Marion Smith, 11-year-old daughter of Arthur W. and Phyllis (Zerbe) Smith of Rattlesnake Hill rd., died after a brief illness at Children's hospital, Boston, Tuesday, Jan. 4. Born in Andover, she had always lived here and was in the sixth grade of the Stowe school. A member of the Baptist church Sunday school, she also attended that church.

She is survived by her parents; one sister, Jacquelyn C.; one brother, A. Wayne; her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Smith of Andover; and her maternal grandfather, Harry Zerbe of Longmeadow.

The funeral will be held Friday, Jan. 7, from the Lundgren funeral home with services at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Wendell L. Bailey. Interment will be in Spring Grove cemetery.

FORMER ANDOVER PASTOR DIES IN MAINE

Mr. Lombard was pastor of the West Springfield Baptist church from 1924 to 1943 and served many churches in Maine, Massachusetts and Vermont.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Edward W. of South Freeport and William R. of West Springfield; and two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Remus of West Springfield and Mrs. Gertrude McGingley of East Eddington.

Adopt New Wedding Anniversary List

The new wedding anniversary list recently adopted in the United States has now been adopted in Canada.

The new list replaces the one created some years ago by the American National Retail Jewelers association and was made public with their approval and that of the National association of Credit Jewelers and the National Wholesale Jewelers association by the Jewelry Industry council. In Canada the new list has been made public by the Canadian Jewelers association.

The new list, as did the old, includes products of other industries along with jewelry. Gifts for the first nine anniversaries are gifts that help complete the household. They include, china, crystal and glass, electric appliances and silver.

After the ninth wedding, personal gifts are suggested for a span of five years, because by then children are usually out of babyhood and parents have more freedom to leave the house. Then, as growing children show an increased pride in their home as a place to entertain friends, gifts for refurnishing the home are designated for the 16th to 19th years of marriage. Personal gifts are again chosen from the 20th on, when the children of most married couples are at work, college or are married, and the parents are comparatively free to think of themselves.

Gifts for the first nine wedding anniversaries are: clocks, china, crystal and glass, electrical appliances, silverware, wood, desk sets and equipment, linens and laces and leather. Official suggestions for the 10th to 20th are: diamond jewelry and accessories, pearls or colored gems, textiles and furs, gold jewelry, watches, silver hollow ware, furniture, porcelain, bronze and platinum. The 25th is the sterling silver jubilee; 30th, diamond; 35th, jade; 40th, sapphire; 50th, golden jubilee; 55th, emerald; 60th, diamond jubilee.

IN MEMORIAM

During the midnight hour of Dec. 19, Mary Ellen Grant Anderson, one of Andover's most respected and well-loved citizens entered into her eternal rest.

Born in Great Village, N. S., in 1861, daughter of the Rev. Robert Grant and Rebecca Jane McKim, she came to Lowell in her early womanhood, and there she was married to James Anderson, in the Appleton Street Presbyterian church by the Rev. Robert Court, Sept. 19, 1883.

She and her husband came to Andover, following their marriage, and spent the rest of their lives here, taking an active interest in the well-being of their community.

Mrs. Anderson's love of her home and family was an outstanding trait in her character. Her devotion to her husband was beautiful to behold and in her loving rearing of her children, she faithfully fulfilled her sacred trust.

Her gift for making friends and her loyalty to them were other marked characteristics. She was sensitive to, and sympathetic with them in their joy and sorrow; she loved to share with them whatever she had of spiritual and material value; she was truly the "Good Neighbor."

Her interests outside her home, centered in the Andover Historical society and in the Women's Relief corps of the G.A.R. It was while she was in office that the soldiers' monument in Spring Grove cemetery was erected and the graves of the veterans were re-located. A member of the Free Christian church for over 40 years, she kept in touch with the group of boys whom she had taught in the Sunday school into their late manhood.

Active in the Benevolent society, she was always ready to serve, when and where she might be needed, and her devotion to her pastor was deep-rooted and sincere. Her interest in civic, national and international affairs never flagged, and because of her keen sense of justice, she was outspoken in her opinions.

Her intellectual attainments were innate—she was surrounded by the books she loved and by the music she had made so much a part of her life. Her friends will remember the lovely soprano voice of her younger days. She loved poetry and could express herself beautifully in verse; her love of beauty enveloped all things of nature and art.

The joy of having known Mrs. Anderson has not ceased with her death. She will live on forever in the memory of her children, and of all those who knew and loved her.

WEDDINGS...

PETEROF-REMILLARD

Following their wedding Sunday, Jan. 2 in St. Patrick's church, Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peterof left on a wedding trip by plane to Washington, D. C., and New York City.

The bride is the former Marcelle Rita Remillard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Remillard, 334 Salem st., Lawrence, and her husband is the son of Mrs. Caroline Peterof of Chandler rd., Andover.

During the 2 o'clock ceremony which was performed by the Rev. William E. Culhane of Lawrence, the church organist performed the well-loved "Ave Maria," "Prayer for a Perfect Life" and "Mother At Thy Feet is Kneeling."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional candlelight satin gown fashioned in period style with drop shoulders of lace, a fitted bodice, bouffant skirt with scalloped treatment over tiers of lace flowing into a full court train with lace border. Her silk illusion veil was attached to a satin period headpiece and she carried a malleable bouquet of orchids and sweet peas.

The matron of honor and sister of the bride, Mrs. Lorraine LaFontaine of Lawrence, wore a pink satin brocaded gown sprinkled with silver dust and carried a cascade bouquet of cavalier red roses.

Identical gowns of powder blue and aqua were worn by the bridesmaids, Julie Peterof, sister of the bridegroom, and Mildred Chaplick. Their headpieces of satin were duplicates of that worn by the honor attendant and they carried cascade bouquets of cavalier red and yellow roses.

The bride's niece, Bernadette LaFontaine, in a pink moire taffeta flower girl's frock styled on lines identical with the honor attendant's, wore a bonnet type headpiece of the same material.

The following wedding return has been filed at the office of Town Clerk George H. Winslow:

Lucien Couture, Greenwood rd., and Yvonne (Cayer) Beauden, Greenwood rd., married Friday, Dec. 31 at South church parsonage by the Rev. Frederick B. Noss.

Patents Anti-Rattle Device For Windows

Atty. William C. Ford of 17 York st., and Joseph F. Vinciguerra of Methuen have been granted a patent on an anti-rattle device for windows by the U. S. Patent office.

The invention pertains to a novel and quickly attachable device that fits between the sliding sash and the frames of a window. It is adapted particularly for use on old buildings and serves not only to prevent rattling but also to take the place of a weather strip and thus reduce drafts.

In its general construction, the contrivance of Messrs. Ford and Vinciguerra consists of a bowed sheet spring, preferably of metal one end of which is flat and contains a number of teeth that are arranged in groups of three. The other end of the device is turned slightly upwards and, in addition, is formed with a few rounded bosses or projections thereon that extend to a slightly greater distance than the turned-up end.

By flattening the bowed or curved part of their device with the hand, it may easily be inserted between the side of the window sash and that part of the channel that is nearest the inside of the house. When this is done, the action of the spring will cause the aforementioned teeth to work gradually into the wood of the sash and maintain a firm grip therein, with no twisting out of place regardless of the movement of the window. The purpose of the bosses is to permit their end of the contrivance to slide, with no possibility of catching, within the channel.

Obviously therefore, this invention of Messrs. Ford and Vinciguerra, because of its spring-like properties, functions to force the sash into close contact with the face of the channel nearest the outside of the building, to thereby minimize rattling and effectively keep out the wind.

The application for this patent was filed Sept. 24, 1945 and consists of three claims of originality.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

WHAT IS THE LAW?

Over the Christmas and New Year's weekends, the usual annual squabble took place regarding the selling of liquor to Massachusetts residents by the New Hampshire State Liquor mart in Salem. Commissioner Long of this state has maintained that all such liquor sold and brought into this state is subject to the Massachusetts tax. Many customers (and there seem to have been many Massachusetts patrons of the Salem, N. H., store) claim, for the most part, that they should not be taxed on liquor bought out of the state.

We do not claim to know the answer to this $64 question, but, because of the controversy, we do think it is about time that the issue was decided once and for all. New Hampshire authorities have been peeved that representatives of Long's office should go into New Hampshire and take the numbers of Massachusetts cars parked near the liquor source. Are they right, or has Massachusetts got the right to send such agents into another state?

We have always believed that there is not, and cannot be, any duty between the states of the United States. Is this effort to tax liquor bought in New Hampshire an infringement of that constitutional right? If something is taxed in Massachusetts, we, of course, must pay the tax. But, if something is not taxed in a neighboring state, why must we pay a tax to Massachusetts on something we did not buy here?

The same probably holds true for cigarettes purchased through the mails by Bay Staters in states which do not tax them. If a resident of Massachusetts wants to buy something in another state, can Massachusetts, legally, tax him for so doing?

Perhaps Massachusetts can exact such a tax, and perhaps Commissioner Long is well within his rights in trying to collect that money. On the other hand, perhaps Massachusetts has no legal right to that money.

It does seem that the matter should be settled once and for all.

Such a decision would certainly clear up a lot of misunderstanding on the border between Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

THINGS ARE LOOKING UP!

Old Sol is journeying northward. He reached the southernmost point of his annual pilgrimage a few days before Christmas, and from now, until the latter part of June, when he reaches the summer solstice he will appear to be spending his time traveling in the opposite direction. And his northward trip is one that is bound to bring pleasure to all of us. It means that Spring is on the way, and, after spring, summer.

It is a little early now, of course, to think of spring and summer. Before those seasons come we must have a lot of cold, dismal weather. January and February bring us the coldest of the entire year. When the days begin to lengthen, the cold begins to strengthen.

But, the very fact that we are well on our way into the New Year, and that the sun is actually getting higher every day—rising earlier and setting later—means that things, from a weather viewpoint, at least, are looking up.

And let us hope 1949 will bring us a lot of good things in every other way. Perhaps congress and the president will get together and act in accord for the best interests of the whole country! Perhaps labor will try to see the employers' point of view just as little more, and perhaps the employers will look upon labor as deserving the best possible treatment.

Perhaps the nations will see eye to eye. Perhaps even communistic Russia will come to realize that there really is a whole lot to democracy and all that it stands for.

Perhaps—
Oh, one might go on for a long time, hoping for this and hoping for that.

But it does no harm to hope, and if all of us would try just a little harder to make this a better world we might, in the long run, really make it so. Let's really expect things to look up in 1949!

FIRES! FIRES! FIRES!

December was a bad month for fires, and many of them were caused by heating systems and kitchen stoves. A number of lives were lost that never should have been lost, because many of those fires never should have happened.

Every person who lives in a house—and most people do—should see to it that everything is in order. Never take a chance where fire is concerned. And always be ready to act quickly if fire does strike.

Fires caught at the start may be extinguished with a bucket of water, and while it is well to try to control a blaze at its start, the wise person loses no time in calling the fire department. Sometimes the firemen have needless calls, but whenever there is a fire—however slight—they should be called just the same.

1949 promises to be a big one at the race tracks. In other words, a lot of suckers are going to lose a whole lot of money, trying to pick winners between now and next January 1.

Plan and air life is responsible for present success. And now that the first round has not proved disastrous we must be prepared to stand our ground. There are those who counseled leaving Europe to its fate, who believed that we were the cause of friction with Russia. There are still those who think that kindness and light are the sole requirements for peace in the world. There are those who believed that the United States was dragging reluctant neutrals into a fight against Russia. Some still say so. But they fail to realize that the situation is none of our choosing, that it is the inevitable result of the emergence of two great powers after the war.

Democracy Gets Its Wind

They fail to understand that had we withdrawn from Europe it would have gradually, if not quickly, come under Russian domination and exploitation. American physical aid and moral support turned the tide in the 1948 Italian elections, they helped to keep France out of communist control, and they gave time for other people to realize that communism is not in actuality so attractive as its surface appearance may suggest. This may seem like a small gain. But it is in effect one of incalculable importance. For once a country becomes communist it has little if any opportunity to realize its error in time to change its mind. The results may appear to be slight compared with the cost. But what has been demonstrated is Russia's unwillingness to face an actual showdown. We know what methods Russia has used, and we can anticipate how she will in the future attempt to gain her ends. We know where we stand and how to keep our position. And we should now know how to act in the future.

Realism with Idealism

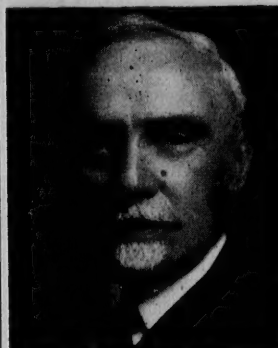

Another resolution worth our consideration is that we remain politically realistic. The United States may find itself in association with some rather curious acquaintances in the international field. But such an association is not necessarily caused by common dislikes. Nations are fully aware that communist ideology does not need a Red Army to gain its ends. They know that there are always those ready to serve communism everywhere in the world. Practical politics may mean that we line up with whatever nations actively oppose communism. We may not be entirely comfortable in such company, but we may well be safer in face of common danger. And, growing up as we are to international politics, we must accept what sometimes seem to be a compromise with our ideals. It may be that our odd associates may not only be saved from communism but may even be won to our ways.

Need for Atlantic Union
A third resolution should be to realize that the Atlantic Pact must develop into an Atlantic Union of common interests. Western Union of Britain, France and the Benelux nations is only the beginning, not the final accomplishment. Western Union is nothing without the United States. Of course, Russia will argue that we are using the dependence of those nations for our own interests. If we didn't expect such propaganda we must be blind to Russian methods and objectives. If we don't anticipate criticism from the very nations we assist, we are not practicing in international politics. Nations do not like to depend on others, and Russia expertly plays upon their dependence on outside help. We can expect to hear criticism for whatever we do. If we assist Europe, Russia claims that we are merely serving our own interests. If we don't assist Europe, then Russia would argue that we are deserting our former allies.

Unity for Democracies
We should resolve to accept, with all its implications, Russia's confirmed belief that the struggle between communism and democracy must go on. For by so accepting we know where we stand, we have no illusions and so do not persuade ourselves into a false position. We must realize that Russia does not stand alone. Besides her Soviet sphere in Eastern Europe, she has the potential millions of Asiatics who resent white imperialism. Our foreign policy must take that into account. It cannot be passive but must strive towards the elimination of such danger spots. And we must realize that we do not stand alone. Whatever the petty criticism of hungry, tired nations, the fact is that there are basic common interests. And the democracies in physical and moral potentiality can line up resources that could far overshadow Russia and her satellites.

Our greatest resolve must be to unify into common action all those peoples who believe fundamentally as we do, those peoples who singly can fall but together can bring the world nearer peace in 1949.

MEET—

EDWARD VINTON FRENCH

In 1946, Edward V. French, one of the pioneers who brought to fire protection the application of engineering principles, retired from active participation in the business to which he had devoted 54 years of his life.

Born in Lynn in 1868, Mr. French attended the Lynn public schools and after graduating from Massachusetts Institute of Technology spent three years in industrial plants and as an instructor at M.I.T. In 1892 he joined the Factory Mutual organization. During the first years of his association with this institution, he experimented with sprinkler systems and hydraulic testing. Through his research on electricity in industrial plants resulted some of the early rules for safe electrical installations which were the forerunners of the National Electric Code.

For 12 years from 1906-1918, he was vice-president of the Awkright Mutual Fire Insurance company, a branch of the Factory Mutual organization, and in 1918 he entered the army as a major and had charge of fire protection for the depots of supplies, hospitals and other army property in France.

Upon his return to civilian life, he became president of the Awkright company and later was made chairman of the board of Factory Mutual.

Among his clubs are the Episcopal club, Engineers' club, Down Town club, and the North Andover Country club. He also holds membership in the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, American Society of Electrical Engineers, American Water Works association, New England Water Works association and the National Fire Protection association.

Mr. and Mrs. French live at 20 School st. They have two daughters, Mrs. Jerome C. Greene of New York and Mrs. Sandford G. Gorton of St. Lawrence, Jersey, C. I.

REPORT From the State House

By PHILIP K. ALLEN

Last week we were mainly concerned with the past history of public welfare in Massachusetts and with the general concept of the relief of the needy and destitute. This week and next we will take up in some detail the operations of the department. One fact must be kept in mind throughout this discussion: it is the firm belief of the present commissioner and his predecessors that public assistance should be administered locally by the cities and towns.

The department of public welfare is divided operationally into five divisions: the bureau of accounts, the division of research and statistics, the sub-division of incorporated charities, the division of child guardianship, and the division of aid and relief. These divisions come under the direct control of the commissioner of public welfare, Patrick Thompson, and an advisory board of six members appointed by the governor and approved by the council.

The bureau of accounts by statute is charged with the responsibility of auditing claims for reimbursement in public assistance from cities and towns and the direct claims for care of children in the division of child guardianship.

The bureau of research and statistics collects, compiles, analyzes and publishes statistics of all types of relief and assistance; prepares monthly and quarterly reports for the social security board, and issues semi-annual and special bulletins primarily for the use of local boards of public welfare.

The sub-division of incorporated charities investigates applications filed for charters for charitable causes. The results of these investigations are forwarded by the commissioner to the secretary of state. Some 1,500 such charitable corporations come under their supervision and every year this division must publish the annual reports submitted to them by these private charitable corporations.

The division of child guardianship is one of the two most important divisions in the department and is likewise the second largest (250 employees). This division plays a dual role as it establishes a program of direct care for children and has at the same time certain regulatory functions. The children who come under the direct care of this division are those who are "dependent and neglected" and who, by verdict of the courts or on application made by parents, relatives, friends, or local boards of public welfare, must come under the charge of the state. Originally "wayward and delinquent" children were also given to the care of this division by the courts. By the authority of act of 1948, however, these children will now be committed to the newly established youth service board which has general responsibility over all juvenile delinquents sent them by the courts.

Under the general category of dependent and neglected children, the division of child guardianship is handling approximately 6,200 cases in the Commonwealth. In

H.; the Rev. and Mrs. Philip Kelsey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langdell, Mrs. Pauline McFarlane, Robert Mitchell, Jr.; Miss Ann Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Perry.

Girl Scout Notes

Members of Troop 19 have resumed their meetings which were omitted during the holidays. They meet Wednesdays at 3:30 p. m. at the home of their leader, Mrs. Arthur Weiss.

The clothing kit packed by the girls has been sent. The members are now selling calendars. The money obtained from this project is divided, some going for the local troop, some for the general work of the Lawrence council and some to pay for postage for the kits. Anyone desiring to help in this project is asked to contact the girls or the leaders.

Boy Scout Notes

Members of Troop 76 meet every Tuesday evening in the hall of the fire station with Arnold Schofield as leader. Recent guests at their meeting were Robert Kent and Robert Ganley, both Eagle scouts of Lawrence.

Gift from England

Mrs. James McGhie of Clark rd., who celebrated her 90th birthday last fall was the recipient of a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers cabled her by her relatives in England for the holiday.

Women's Service League

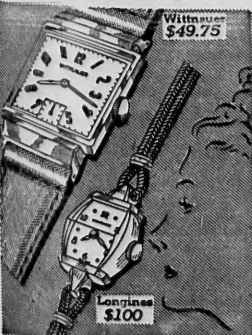

The next meeting of the Women's Service League of the Union Congregational church will be held in the church vestry Jan. 12. Mrs. Ernest Hall will be hostess. The newly-elected officers to be installed are: Mrs. Curtis Scholtz, president; Mrs. Leslie Hadley, vice-president; Mrs. Walter Curtis, treasurer, and Mrs. P. W. Moody, secretary.

Ballardvale P.T.A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ballardvale P.T.A. will be held in the Bradlee school this evening. Movies on safety will be shown. A short business meeting will be held with Mrs. John Wilson, the president, presiding. A social hour will follow and refreshments will be served.

Skating Areas Await Jack Frost

With the cooperation of the Weather Man, skating areas in town will be prepared to accommodate greater crowds than ever before.

The new central skating area adjacent to the schools and the new area near Carter's corner will provide adequate room for the sport in these two sections, while the Sacred Heart school playground will take care of hundreds in Shawheen Village.

By opening up a much larger area near the central schools, the Andover Recreation committee has provided a space about 270 feet long and about 120 feet across at its widest point, to take care of youngsters who might otherwise seek more dangerous spots for their sport.

The central area just made ready this season, includes the space formerly taken up by tennis courts and a section of adjoining ground that was not used for any particular purpose.

At the beginning of the school holiday there was skating there for about five days but the rain and warm weather caused this to disappear. This area had been flooded from the high school under the direction of Donald D. Dunn, supervisor of physical education, and with the assistance of Thomas Webster, a senior, and three veterans, Charles Barrett, Mr. Winn of Shawheen Village and Charles Naylor.

The area will be flooded again just as soon as the weather gets cold enough to cause the ground to freeze. The flooding process is really a spraying job, and a cold one, at that. It is done at night with Mr. Dunn and his assistants working in relays until morning. It takes about three coatings before it is ready for skaters.

The area will be supervised and then crowded hockey games will not be allowed. The space is primarily for youngsters and for adults who do not want to depend on the river or ponds. It is hoped that before next season the area will be enlarged to provide room at all times for hockey.

Besides being utilized for skating in winter the area is large enough for two soft ball diamonds which youngsters can use during the baseball season.

The section set aside for skating near Carter's corner will be flooded by residents of that area and kept in good condition by them as soon as the weather permits.

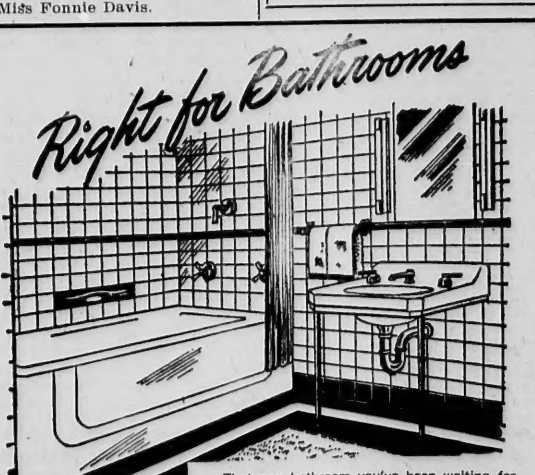

Every man, woman and child in the United States had a fire bill of $4.84 for last year — more than double fire costs in 1940, when the per capita loss was $2.32.

Report From the State House

order to administer this program in a more efficient manner, the work was decentralized three years ago by setting up district offices in Springfield, Worcester, Lawrence, Brockton, New Bedford and Boston. For the information of readers of this column the district office in Lawrence is at 46 Amesbury st., under the supervision of James B. Carson.

Perhaps the primary function of the division is the providing of foster homes for these children, homes where the children will be treated as regular members of the family and where they may regain some of what they lost through no fault of their own. At the same time these homes must be run by people with a semi-professional attitude coupled with warm human feelings, for frequently they may have to give up those children when parents take them back or for other reasons. At the present moment there are between 2,500 and 3,000 such homes in the Commonwealth.

These homes cannot, of course, be run without financial support. The state, therefore, subsidizes them to the extent of paying for the individual child's board, clothing, and medical expenses. Under the item of board which is paid monthly, the state reimburses the foster home on the following schedule: for babies up to two years of age, $10 per week; two to four, $8.50; five to nine, $7.50; girls 10 to 17, $8.50. Under the item of clothing, which is paid quarterly, the state reimburses the foster home on the following schedule: for babies up to three years of age, $42 per year; three to five, $50; six to nine, $60; 10 to 15, $70. A new child is completely outfitted at the state's expense, and all medical, dental, and hospital expenses are paid by the state.

Some of the parents who can contribute in part to the support of the children do so, either voluntarily or by court order, and the cities and towns of "settled dependent children" also contribute. Last year the division paid nearly $400,000, while the cities and towns contributed almost $250,000 and the parents $150,000. In addition to this, $365,000 for tuition and transportation was paid by the division to the cities and towns of Massachusetts for the public schooling of children in the division's care. This was paid at per capita per diem rates based on the department of education costs of the preceding year.

In addition to this program for the direct care of dependent children, the division of child guardianship is charged with certain regulatory functions. They must, for example, license boarding homes for children. By statute they must investigate any homes in which there is a child under 14 years of age unrelated to the foster parents by blood or marriage and they may grant, refuse or revoke a license to conduct a boarding home where there are boarded two or more children under 14 years of age. The license fee is $5.

They must also investigate and report to the probate courts on every adoption petition concerning a child under 14 years of age. Investigations are not made, however, in the case of social agencies sponsored by charitable corporations and engaged in the care of children.

As in other departments, additional funds could be used and perhaps sometime in the future these funds will be forthcoming either by appropriation or through gifts. For example, the division is not equipped at the present time to care for the specific needs of the individual child nor is it able to provide higher education for the promising child.

CHICAGO—A welcome to a pair of Y.M.C.A. boys from Argentina is extended by A. Fletcher Marsh, "Y" board chairman, as the boys arrive at Chicago's Y.M.C.A. Hotel after completing a 27,000 mile trip by bicycle from Argentina to Alaska. The amazing feat was accomplished in 27 months time by Carlos and Pedro Rocasavio (shown left to right). They are returning home by jeep—a present from the citizens of Fairbanks, Alaska.

AT THE LIBRARY

Among the new books at the library are the following, any of which may be borrowed for home use:

White House Diary Nesbitt
Henrietta Nesbitt was official housekeeper at the White House for thirteen years during the Roosevelt's stay. Her book is intimate, detailed, friendly and frank. This is how the housekeeping for the nation's largest home is managed, and here is a new angle on many national and international personalities.

Story Of Induraja Wernher
In India a widow, regardless of her age, should follow the Hindu code of eating one meal a day, wearing only white saris, discarding all jewels and becoming an outcast. In this novel, young Induraja refused, and returned to her father's home with her son. There she was to find a situation which demanded that she break even further with tradition. Fine picture of modern India.

All Our Years Lovett
A scholarly type of biography of Robert Morris Lovett, a teacher who inspired many to become writers. Beyond that, he was a man of many parts, and served as a government official in the Virgin Islands.

Road To Survival Vogt
Bernard Baruch, in the introduction, says that the productivity of much of the earth, through man's mistreatment, has fallen to such an extent that what one man hour of labor could produce now requires as much as a hundred man hours. This is an attempt to show man as part of his total environment, what he is doing to that environment, on a world scale, and what it is doing to him. It deals with how we are to be fed, sheltered, clothed and if we are to live at peace or at war with each other.

Pioneer Preacher Berryman
The story of Baptist preacher George Carroll Berryman as told by his daughter. Here is Texas of the early 1900's as it felt the impact of the man's courage and wisdom, and the struggle against the existent evils of saloons, cattle rustling, the Ku Klux Klan, and the wild life of the times.

Vouza And The Solomon Islands MacQuarrie
"Picture of pre-war life in the Solomon Islands and of the people for whom the author has a warm-hearted love. The 'Vouza' is a native lance corporal in the constabulary and is the focal point of the story of the incidents of native life."

Appointment On The Hill Detzer
An account of Dorothy Detzer's twenty years as lobbyist for the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. Here are her contacts with Roosevelt, Hoover, Senators Borah, Nye, Taft, Cordell Hull, Sumner Welles, Drew Pearson, etc. Here is the story of democracy in action, from the lobbyist's point of view, and proof that public opinion is the most powerful factor in our politics.

Profile Of Europe Welles
An all-over picture of the continent of Europe, as drawn by an of its foreign news writers — an associate editor of Time and one review of why it is as it is, a fitting in of all parts of its puzzles and a preview of what will happen tomorrow. Good reading, good reasoning.

What Electronics Does Zeluff
Easy to read description of the many interesting jobs that electron tubes are doing in the industrial world.

Creative Hairshaping And Hairstyling You Can Do Anderson
Guide method to hairshaping and basic details of styling, correct mass outlines, how to design styles suitable for personality, age and occasion. Excellent charts and illustrations, helpful to hairdressers and their patrons.

Reporting To Parents Strang
A brief monograph designed to improve procedures among schools wishing to make a more successful reporting to parents. Criteria for appraising reports, problems encountered in changing procedures and practical suggestions for improving present methods.

Americans From Hungary Lengyel
Another in the "People of America Series." Emil Lengyel, Budapest born, tells the contribution made by his people to the American tradition.

Vote To Accept Buxford Pupils

motion of Atty. Vincent F. Stulgis, unanimously voted to accept the Buxford pupils for the school year beginning September 1949.

The committee added $1500 to the budget on the recommendation of Supt. Kenneth L. Sherman to cover the cost of the additional teacher necessary. However, it was pointed out that the tuition for the four months of 1949 would be $4000, which would not only offset the 1500 but would give approximately $2500 direct revenue to the Town. The tuition receipts for a full year would be approximately $10,000, while the cost to the town for these pupils would be in the neighborhood of $4000.

The Andover fire department has been commended by Headmaster John M. Kemper of Phillips academy for its efficiency in handling the fire at the Abbot house a short time ago.

In a letter to Chief C. Edward Buchan, Headmaster Kemper says that he was particularly impressed at the skill with which the fire was localized, as the result of which water damage was particularly non-existent. He also expressed his pleasure with the satisfactory relations existing between the department and the academy and sent his thanks to the men for their skillful work.

Do You Know Massachusetts?

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . . Upwards of 200 Massachusetts cities and towns have applied to the School Building Assistance for aid in increasing their public school facilities, provided under Chapter 645 of the Acts of 1948. . . . People and industries in Boston are using nearly 6,500,000 quarts of milk a week, which is approximately 4% more than a year ago, as shown by the Milk Control board's records for the months, October and November. . . . The state department of conservation reports that $400,000 worth of DDT sprayed from airplanes on woodlands of Massachusetts would exterminate the gypsy moth in three years, whereas cities and towns of the Commonwealth are expending $870,000 annually without attaining complete extermination. . . . Heavy rainfall during November raised the ground water level in Middlesex county to .41 feet above normal average for the month. The only important deficiency reported in the state was the Winchendon area where the level in November was 3.24 feet below normal, as reported by the U. S. Geological survey. . . . The Federal Reserve bank's tourist index shows that even in October 43% of the capacity of Massachusetts' resort hotels and 15% of capacity of the tourist houses was occupied. . . . The poultry industry represents approximately a third of Massachusetts' agricultural income. . . . The state planning board has filed a bill in the legislature providing for the acquisition by the Commonwealth of ocean beaches in Westport, Duxbury, Gloucester and Sandwich.

School Committee Adopts Budget of $316,244

Estimated receipts from the general education fund (state aid) were $26,000.

C. Carleton Kimball representing the Andover Taxpayers association was present at the meeting and took part in the discussions. It was brought out that the increase in the school budget was due mainly to increase in enrollment and increase in basic prices, particularly in maintenance and also due to the fact that increases made last year for three quarters of a year would continue for a full year this year. However, it was noted that while the budget had increased, the enrollment had drastically increased and, therefore, the per pupil cost was only slightly larger than last year.

Chairman Gordon L. Colquhoun announced that the committee had been directed to appear before the finance committee Tuesday, Jan. 11.

The committee discussed the possibility of a school survey but postponed further discussion until a later meeting.

Previous to the meeting the committee attended a dinner served by Miss Angie Dantos and a group of her pupils. The meal was enjoyed by all.

CAN YOU STOP? WINTER'S NO. 1 SAFETY QUERY

Can I stop in time?

That's the question every motorist must ask himself as more than 30,000,000 motor vehicles roll into the hazardous months of winter driving.

The National Safety Council reports that in the northern half of the United States, the mileage death rate is from 24 to 53 per cent higher during the winter months than in summer.

The importance of stopping is emphasized by the fact that about two-thirds of all winter traffic accidents in four typical snowbelt states occurred on snowy and icy surfaces, according to a special Council study.

While there are many ways to have wintertime traffic accidents, such as too much speed on a slippery curve, the Council says that stopping control would prevent many of them. Here's how to answer "Yes" to the question "Can I stop in time?"

Find out how slippery it is when starting out. Get this feel of the road by stepping on the brakes lightly or "gunning" the motor. But be sure you are going slow and that no other cars are near.

Keep your speed down. On ice, don't ever drive faster than 10 to 20 miles an hour. Speed too fast for conditions is the No. 1 winter bogeyman.

Use tire chains—good ones that bite into the surface. On ice and snow, tests have proved chains reduce braking distances 40 to 50 per cent. They are the best self-help you have. Council studies show that tires with abrasive particles imbedded in the tread, recently placed on the market, have almost no effect on stopping on ice at low or moderate temperatures, but help some at temperatures above 23 degrees.

Slow down well in advance of intersections, railroad crossings or any situation which might require a stop. Sudden maneuvers are dangerous on slippery surfaces.

Follow other cars at a safe distance. And use hand signals to give the driver behind you a break.

Keep windshield and windows clear with good defrosters and wipers. If necessary, roll down the window a little. You can't stop in time if you can't see in time.

Pump the brakes when you slow or stop. The idea is to slow the wheels without locking them.

Expresses Faith In Future of N.E.

Confidence in the future of New England is expressed in the New's message of Irwin L. Moore, president of the New England Electric system, the largest electric utility system in the region.

"We in the New England Electric system," says President Moore, "have great faith in the future of New England. We believe the area is an economically mature, stable region in which a high percentage of our alert, intelligent workers own their own homes and earn their living in steady, unspectacular businesses and industries."

"We have no regrets that New England is not an area of spectacular boom businesses which blossom forth with a flourish when things are going well but which fade into economic oblivion when the going gets tough. We are thankful that our businesses and industries here are of the rugged type, built to withstand better than most the economic cycle."

"Because we believe this we are building to meet the growing demands of a virile New England economy. This coming year the New England Electric system will spend over $45,000,000 in new construction and plant additions. At the present time we have major expansion programs under way in Rhode Island, Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts which when completed will add a quarter of a million kilowatts of generating capacity to our system. It is not easy to keep up with the electric demands of the people of this area because since 1920 electric usage has grown 20 times as fast as population. This is particularly true of electricity used in the home. The average domestic customer in our lines now uses two and one-half times as much electricity as he did 18 years ago. It is possible for him to make liberal use of electricity with the knowledge that of all the things he buys, only electricity is cheaper. Actually, it is cheaper in the home than before the war, and even with the increase use it still represents only 1.3 per cent of the average householder's budget."

Born on the Isle of Cyprus in the Mediterranean sea in 1912, he had been a resident of Andover for 15 years, and for the past few months had been employed as chef at Redman's Card Clothing company in Andover. He was a member of St. Matthew's Lodge A. F. and A. M.

Surviving are his wife, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Baduakis, with whom he made his home; and one sister of Alexandria, Egypt.

The funeral will be held Thursday, Jan. 6, from the Lundgren funeral home with services at 2 o'clock in St. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox church in Lawrence. Burial will be in Spring Grove cemetery.

The men gave their names as Arthur Bucciero, 23, and Vincent Stanchi, of Revere. Arranged in Lawrence district court later in the morning. The cases were continued and each was held under bonds of $10,600.

Stanchi was charged with rape, kidnapping, operating to endanger and failure to stop on the signal of an officer. Bucciero was charged with attempted criminal assault, kidnapping, operating to endanger and failure to stop.

Police said that the two men met two girls, one from Lawrence and the other from Haverhill, in a Lawrence cafe and offered to drive them home. They took the Lawrence girl home but instead of taking the other to Haverhill started in the direction of Boston.

IT'S A SMOOTHIE!

I mean ANN PAGE PEANUT BUTTER. It's creamy smooth, spreads so easily and evenly. Pantry raiders and lunch-box toters gloat over its rich flavor of freshly-roasted peanuts. For a tempting, satisfying home lunch, serve soup, then peanut butter sandwiches and topped with French-toasted ANN PAGE JELLY or PRE-SERVE.

FRESH AND FINE FOR '49!

Good eating every meal! Start the New Year by serving MARVEL BREAD. It's always deliciously fresh—dated fresh right on the wrapper. And you know how important freshness is, for when freshness fades, flavor fades. Perfect blending, patient baking give A&P's MARVEL the smooth, even texture that spreads easily, toasts golden brown all over. And top quality ingredients make A&P's MARVEL tops for taste, too.

START THE DAY RIGHT!

Start the YEAR right—starting the day right by enjoying plenty of crisp delicious SUNNYFIELD CEREALS from your friendly A&P. SUNNYFIELD means the finest of rich, golden grains, carefully blended into the finest of tasty breakfast cereals. ROLL YOUR OWN!

Hold on, pardner—want to please your favorite tribe of Indians at Saturday Night Supper? It's as easy as beans with this tasty Bean Roll. Spread 6 to 8 slices bologna or salami with ANN PAGE PREPARED MUSTARD. Arrange ANN PAGE BEANS (any style) on bologna. Roll. Bake in shallow pan in hot oven, 400°F., about 8 minutes. ANN PAGE products? At your well-stocked A&P, of course!

Legion For Pension Of $60 At 60.

The American Legion will ask the 81st congress to enact legislation granting old-age pensions to veterans of World Wars I and II, starting at $60 at the age of 60 years.

The "60 at 60" pension decision was reached by a special subcommittee of the national executive committee of the American Legion, headed by Chairman Leonard W. Esper of Springfield, Ill., at a two-day meeting in Indianapolis.

The subcommittee was named by National Commander Perry Brown to clarify the two pension resolutions adopted by the 30th national convention at Miami, Fla., and to direct the national legislative commission of the American Legion in what form to present the proposal to congress.

The Esper NEC subcommittee issued a six-point directive to the national legislative commission to incorporate the following provisions in the American Legion pension bill to be submitted to congress:

1. The legislation shall include veterans of both World War I and World War II.
2. Eligible for pensions shall be veterans who served 90 days or more on active duty or who were discharged for service-connected disability incurred in line of duty and who were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.
3. The pension is to be effective at the attained age of 60 years at the rate of $60 a month and at the attained age of 65 years at the rate of $90 a month.
4. Before attaining the age of 60 years, the following degree of non-service-connected disability shall be payable:
 - $20.00 a month on a 20 per cent disability rating.
 - $40.00 on 40 per cent.
 - $60.00 on 60 per cent.
 - $90.00 on total disability.
5. Those veterans having service-connected disabilities and receiving compensation shall continue to receive such benefits and in addition thereto shall be recipients of the old age pension.
6. Income shall not be considered upon application for pension.

P.T.A. To Resume Meetings Jan. 19

The first of a new series of Andover Central P. T. A. meetings will be held at the Memorial auditorium at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Jan. 19, when Dana M. Cotton of the Harvard Graduate School of Education will speak to the largest membership in the history of the association.

As a result of a survey conducted last fall the theme of the meeting will be an appraisal of the value of college as other secondary training. The program will consist of two parts, the first Mr. Cotton's address, and the second a demonstration by means of interviews between faculty members and students how guidance is being handled in the local school system at the present. A question and answer period will follow.

Mr. Cotton is a member of the faculty of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, and director of placement and public relations there, and is also associate of the Harvard university summer school.

Miss Christie On Air In School Broadcast

Dorothy Christie, the girl winner of the Goldsmith speaking contest, will broadcast "The Murderer's Confession," by Edgar Allan Poe, over WCCM Friday at 10:30 a.m. This is the selection presented by Miss Christie in the contest.

Those who have an opportunity to do so are urged to listen every Friday at 10:30 a.m. to the Andover school broadcasts. They are always interesting and frequently contain pertinent information about the town and its school which may be entirely new to many listeners.
